Fun Home

Alison Bechdel

ISBN: 9780618871711

Houghton Mifflin Harcourt

List Price: $14.95

Our Price: $9.72

A fresh and brilliantly told memoir from a cult favorite comic artist, marked by gothic twists, a family funeral home, sexual angst, and great books. A darkly funny family tale, pitch-perfectly illustrated with Bechdel's sweetly gothic drawings. Like Marjane Satrapi's Persepolis, it's a story exhilaratingly suited to graphic memoir form.

A haunting debut novel about a mixed-race family living in 1970s Ohio, and what happens when their favorite daughter is found drowned at the bottom of a lake near their home. A profoundly moving story of family, history, and the meaning of home.

Melody is not like most people. She cannot walk or talk, but she is smarter than most of the adults who try to diagnose her, and smarter than her classmates who dismiss her as mentally challenged because she cannot tell them otherwise. But Melody refuses to be defined by cerebral palsy..

As their winning season unfolds, things begin to change. Josh and Jordan must grow up on and off the court and realize breaking the rules comes at a terrible price. Told in dynamic verse, this fast and furious middle grade novel bounces with rhythm and bursts with heart.

If Moby Dick can be claimed as the Great American Novel, then Melville's short works are the Great American Stories. In the sorrowful tragedy of Billy Budd, Sailor; the controlled rage of Benito Cereno; and the tantalizing enigma of Bartleby, the Scrivener; among others; Melville reveals himself as a poet of ambiguities, inviting myriad readings rather than inscribing singular truths.

The Victorian fascination with fairyland vivified the literature of the period, and led to some of the most imaginative fairy tales ever written. They offer the shortest path to the age's dreams, desires, and wishes. This anthology brings together 14 of the best stories to show the vibrancy and variety of the form and its abilities to reflect our deepest concerns. A selection of original illustrations is also included.

A young woman awakes trapped in an enclosed space. She has no idea who she is or how she got there. With only her instincts to guide her, she and other prisoners she encounters escape to find the remains of a war long past, and move on to uncover the truth of their imprisonment.

How do you punish an immortal? By making him human. Forced into the form of a regular teenager, the 4000-year-old deity Apollo needs help, and he knows of only one place to go ... an enclave of modern demigods known as Camp Half-Blood.

Skink: a ragged, one-eyed, ex-governor of Florida, and enough of a renegade to think he can find Malley—her parents were about to ship her off to boarding school, so she took off with some guy she met online. Skink and Malley's cousin Richard scour the state, facing blinding storms, crazed pigs, flying bullets, and giant gators.

There's a murderer on the loose—but that doesn't stop the girls of St. Etheldreda's from attempting to hide the death of their headmistress in this rollicking farce. A smart, hilarious Victorian romp, full of outrageous plot twists, mistaken identities, and mysterious happenings.

As a boy, the author came to the United States legally with his family. Their visas lapsed, but his courageous mother was determined to make a better life for her sons. Without papers, she faced tremendous obstacles. Essential reading for the debate on immigration, but also an unforgettable tale of a passionate scholar coming of age in two different worlds.
